

College Where It's Convenient: FLCC's Wayne County Campus Center

Wayne County residents don't have to travel far and wide to get a great education. Finger Lakes Community College's Wayne County Campus Center is located on the 1100 Technology Parkway campus in Newark. The Campus Center has day and evening courses that make full-time or part-time learning convenient. Courses in Business Administration, Accounting, Liberal Arts and Sciences, Human Services and Childhood Education give students the knowledge and skills needed for successful careers in a variety of in-demand fields.

The Wayne County Campus Center has been a presence in Newark since 1990. The building itself has eight classrooms, three rooms with computer and ceiling projectors and four rooms with Smart boards, two computer labs, and an Academic Support Center. With the opening of a new state-of-the-art biology in 2011, students have the opportunity to satisfy a variety of program requirements without having to travel to the main campus to do so.

Academic and Student Services

Earning a college degree can be challenging and many students benefit from additional assistance – including tutoring, counseling, academic advising, and more. At FLCC's Wayne County Campus Center, students have access to academic support services, computer labs, one stop center services, and library services. These services are designed to help students reach their goals, and the friendly, helpful staff and faculty at the Wayne County Campus Center are committed to student success.

Students who attend the Wayne County Campus Center also have access to services that are housed on FLCC's main campus in Canandaigua. For example, campus center students can place orders for text books and have them conveniently delivered to their campus center. The Campus Center also has student clubs and activities that add to the college experience.

FLCC's Wayne County Campus Center offers an excellent educational experience right in the heart of Newark. Completing a two-year degree at FLCC means that you'll be workforce-ready sooner than you might think. FLCC degrees are also a stepping stone to four-year degrees at colleges and universities throughout the country, and graduates have gone on to employment within Wayne County, throughout New York State, across the country, and beyond!
